Protesting Poles arrested Sunday

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Polish martial law authorities arrested 194 people in the western industrial city of Poznan after a crowd shouted anti-government slogans and refused to disperse Saturday, Poland's official PAP news agency said Sunday.

A broadcast monitored in Vienna said 162 of those arrested were "punished" by misdemeanor courts following the disturbance. The Broadcast did not elaborate on the disturbance or the punishments and did not report any injuries.

Saturday marked the two-month anniversary of martial law in the country. The Communist authorities had deployed tanks, troops and riot police in a massive show of force to discourage demonstrations.

Sunday's report by PAP comes two weeks after a riot in the northern part of Gdansk, where the now-suspended independent Solidarity union was formed. The government said at least 14 people were hurt in that riot and 250 people seized. Gdansk was sealed off and martial law restrictions tightened.

The military rulers took foreign journalists on an escorted tour to the Baltic port city last week in an effort to show them the city is calm.

PAP said that as a result of the disturbance in Poznan on Sunday, the provincial defense committee ordered gasoline sales banned and theaters closed down on Monday.

The bans on motor fuel sales and large public gatherings were lifted earlier in Poland. Doctors and farmers with special permits were exempted from the new restrictions in Poznan, the agency said.

PAP said the Poznan demonstrators converged in the center of the city and were "provoked by leaflets inciting to demonstrations." It said the crowd "shouted hostile slogans."

Police moved in and arrested the demonstrators, mostly high school and university students, when the crowd ignored orders to disperse, PAP said. The agency also said the crowd included "persons who are neither employed nor studying anywhere."

Energy reduction plans suggested

by Jane Meyer

Rescheduling classes and offering energy incentives are two possible ways to bring a reduction in energy costs at Eastern, university officials said Monday.

Physical Plant Assistant Director Marty Ignazito said additional energy-saving methods are currently being considered in light of an announcement earlier this week that Eastern's coal conversion and energy conservation construction projects would be delayed for six months because of a shortage of state funds.

Both construction projects would have reduced utility costs for the university when completed, Ignazito said.

Ignazito said he and other university administrators, including Housing Director Lou Hencken and Vice President for Administration and Finance George Miller, are now only "in the preliminary talking stages" about future non-capital programs to bring energy savings to the university.

The suggestion to reschedule classes is based on the fact that a peak time for energy usage at the university is between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily. Ignazito said if the university could shift a load of classes out of those hours, a savings in energy costs would be realized.

He said the electric company bases 70 percent of its bill according to the peak time when most electricity is used.

"The thing that is causing that large usage is large occupancy of many classrooms during that time," Ignazito said.

Hours that might be suitable exchanges when less electricity is used are 8 a.m. and after 3 p.m., he added.

Ignazito estimated the university could save $100,000 or more a year in electricity costs with rescheduling of classes.

Miller said he agreed with Ignazito's estimation. "Bills are based on peak usage," he said. "If there is a way we can reduce these peaks, there's no doubt that we could save thousands and thousands of dollars."

The other plan, also in the preliminary stages, would offer incentives to users who reduce electricity intake.

Hencken and Ignazito said one possible place to offer the savings would be to either residents of Carman Hall or East Hall.

These two halls were built later than the rest of the residence halls, which operate on a single system, so individual halls could not be monitored.

If energy consumption were reduced in the halls, then savings could somehow be passed on to the residents of the halls.

Hencken said since the incentive plan is still in the early stages, no one knows how savings might be relayed to residents.

Hencken said the savings might go toward funding a special buffet-style dinner among other things.

The coal conversion project and energy conservation projects were included on a list of 153 projects throughout the state that were delayed because of tight funding.

The projects are to be funded by the Illinois Capital Development Board. The CDB oversees and controls all construction for state institutions.

The coal conversion project was scheduled for completion in March 1984 while the energy conservation projects would have been completed this summer.

Judge passes verdict: guilty

by Sharon Bray

Carlos Johnson, a former Eastern student, was found guilty of home invasion, two counts of burglary and two counts of aggravated battery Thursday by Circuit Court Judge Paul C. Komada.

Johnson, 19, and Paul Rathgeb, 18, were charged in connection with a Sept. 11, 1981 incident at the David Dow residence, 28 W. Jackson St., in which 80-year-old Ruby Dow was beaten.

The two are also charged with burglary and aggravated battery in connection with another incident which occurred at the Mitchell Powell residence, 609 C. St., Charleston, on the same night.

Rathgeb, who was anticipated to be a witness at the Johnson trial, was unable to testify due to bad road conditions, Kubicek added.

Rathgeb will be tried at a later date.

Defense attorney Fred Kubicek said he would appeal Johnson's guilty verdict. Kubicek has 30 days to file an appeal.

Johnson, taking the witness stand for a brief time in his defense, testified that he was not aware of what he was doing on the night of Sept. 11.

"I didn't realize what had happened until sometime after I got to the police station," Johnson said.

Johnson added that the statements he made in tapes presented at the trial Wednesday were both recollections of what he actually remembered and what he was told had happened.

"I wasn't really aware of all that happened," Johnson said.

One of the defense's main arguments was that Johnson was too intoxicated to be aware of his actions on Sept. 11.

Johnson said on a taped statement, presented to the court Wednesday, that on Sept. 11, 1981 he alone had smoked six or seven marijuana cigarettes and had shared 10 to 13 more with friends.

He added that he had shared six pitchers of beer with one other person and had consumed seven to nine bottles of beer by himself.

A psychiatrist from the Southern Illinois School of Medicine in Springfield, said a person of Johnson's height and weight would be "moderately to severely intoxicated" given the amount of alcohol and marijuana Johnson said he consumed.

Kubicek pointed out to the court that Johnson had not eaten any lunch or dinner that day.

The psychiatrist said a person's actions could be severely impaired under the conditions given.

He said that, as a general rule, a person could be mentally impaired and still appear physically capable.

A person in Johnson's said-condition could easily act on impulse.

In rebuttal, attorney for the prosecution, Coles County State's Attorney Nancy Owen, called arresting officer Mark Findley to the stand.

Findley said, "I do not believe he (Johnson) was intoxicated (at the time of arrest)."

Sentencing will be at a later date.

Pick up aid at Union

Students receiving campus-based financial aid should report to the University Union Grand Ballroom between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday with an ID, John Flynn associate director of financial aid said.

Those students receiving the National Direct Student Loan, Supplementary Grant; Eastern Disadvantage Student Loan and the Basic Education Opportunity Grant will be able to receive the funding at this time, Flynn said.

If students fail to pick-up their aid Monday or Tuesday they will have to wait until March 15 for the next disbursement, Flynn added.

Shuttle nearing third launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Technicians preparing the shuttle Columbia for its third trip into space finished installing explosive devices in its solid rocket boosters Sunday, officials said.

"And that's about the last major thing they have to do before we roll it out to the launching pad," said Kennedy Space Center spokesman Dick Young.

On Monday, technicians begin moving back work platforms and clearing up other last-minute details so that the Columbia can be moved to its launch site, Young said. That's set for 5 a.m. EST Tuesday.

Pilot may have caused crash

TOKYO—The pilot of a Japanese jetliner "didn't feel good" when he reportedly reversed a critical thrust lever and fought off his cockpit crew just before the plane nosedived and slammed into Tokyo Bay, Kyodo News Service said Sunday.

Newspapers said the pilot, Seiji Katagiri, vanished after the Japan Air Lines DC-8 crashed Tuesday but mysteriously reappeared later at a hotel while rescuers were still pulling bodies from the wreck.

Japanese newspapers, television and Kyodo reported that investigators were focusing on possible pilot error and mental condition of the 35-year-old captain as reasons for the crash. The reports said Katagiri, who has flown DC-8s since 1970, may have reversed a thrust lever on one of his four engines, stalling the aircraft during its approach.

Boy mauled by Ford cougar

PITTSBURGH—A nine year-old boy mauled by a cougar advertising Lincoln-Mercury cars was in stable condition Sunday while an animal trainer faced charges of assaulting the officer who killed the cat.

The cougar attacked the youth Saturday during a car show at the David Lawrence Convention Center.

Arthur Banze, an off-duty police officer in the crowd, shot and killed the 130-pound cat as its owner, Bob Steele, struggled to get the animal to release its grip on the boy.

James Seals of Pittsburgh was taken to Allegheny General Hospital. Spokesman John Sacuto said Sunday the youngster's condition had stabilized after three hours surgery to repair cuts and damage to an artery that leads to the brain.

Ford, UAW agree on tentative contract, seek worker approval

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers have agreed on a tentative contract granting limited job security and profit sharing in exchange for employee concessions, and now must convince workers to go along.

"They (union officials) are going to have to do a lot of explaining and convincing at most plants," said Robbie Robinson, UAW collective bargaining representative at Ford's Wixom Plant in suburban Detroit. He said Sunday he expects a "close" vote.

The tentative 31-month agreement, announced late Saturday after 13 straight days of negotiations, includes guaranteed income for laid-off workers with high seniority and an experimental program at two plants where most workers will have "an equivalent of lifetime employment."

In exchange, Ford's 170,000 autoworkers would give up wage hikes and eight paid personal holidays during the life of the contract and forego cost-of-living payments until September 1983.

If ratified by Ford's UAW workers, including union members who are laid-off, the new contract would replace the current three-year pact that is set to expire Sept. 14 and would last until Sept. 14, 1984. The vote will be conducted over the next few weeks.

Neither the union nor the company would estimate the savings to the No. 2 U.S. automaker which says it lost more than $1 billion last year.

Analysts estimated Sunday a savings of $2 to $3 per man-hour for Ford. Ford says its workers' average hourly pay rate was $21.50 last year.

"If we didn't think it was good for the Ford workers, we wouldn't have reached an agreement," UAW Vice President Don Ephlin said in announcing the tentative pact Saturday night.

The UAW reopened contract negotiations with both Ford and General Motors Corp. on Jan. 11 as both automakers sought lower labor costs in order to better compete with foreign automakers.

The talks at GM collapsed Jan. 28 without agreement. Union officials had said they feared they could not sell the package to the rank and file in light of a narrow vote of the union's GM council in favor of concessions. GM reported a $333 million profit last year.

Ford Chairman Philip Caldwell said the agreement "should... be the catalyst for restoring the company's competitiveness," but he did not estimate the impact on car prices.

House panel examines coal mine policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House panel will hold two days of hearings this week on the government's policing of the coal industry in the wake of 35 deaths in the nation's mines the last two months.

More congressional hearings are planned next week. And, even the Reagan administration is responding to the recent outcry over the climbing toll by reversing itself and seeking more money to help protect the nation's miners.

"We cannot live with what is happening," Sam Church, president of the United Mine Workers union, said last month in calling for the congressional investigations.

In 1981, 153 miners were killed in job-related accidents, the highest since 1975. Sixteen already have died in the mines this year.

UMW officials have charged there is a direct connection between the mounting fatalities and the recent personnel policies of the Mine Safety and Health Administration, the federal watchdog of the underground coal industry.

Beginning in the last year of Carter administration, the agency's inspection staff has dropped from 1,400 to about 1,200, resulting in 5,000 fewer underground mine inspections last year than in 1980.

Reagan announced Feb. 6 that he was lifting a year-old hiring freeze in the agency. To begin hiring new inspectors, he released $2 million in federal mine safety funds he had refused to spend this year.

The White House said Reagan also will ask Congress to increase the agency's spending by $15 million in the 1983 fiscal year.

AB OK's tentative art, government budgets

by Mary Holland and Denise Skowron

The Apportionment Board opened the deliberation process for next fall's budgets by amending and "tentatively" approving budgets for Eastern's student government and the Art Board but took no action on the Player's request.

Although deliberations on the Health Service budget were scheduled for Thursday, action was postponed because budget requests were incomplete.

AB Vice chairman Mark Hudson informed the board he is still researching some Health Service line items which were "questionable."

A presentation and possible deliberations of the Health Service budget is expected to be made at the next AB meeting.

AB Chairman Mike Nowak suggested cuts totalling $1,056 in the student government budget from the original budget proposal of $15,439.

The cuts reduce the budget request to $14,383—a decrease of $713 from last year's budget.

The original request of $9,198 for student payroll was made in anticipation of an increase in the minimum wage, but Nowak said the amount was cut to last year's request of $8,442 "because the President (Reagan), in his infinite wisdom, decided not to raise the minimum wage."

Since the Student Senate has decided to discontinue membership in the Illinois Student Association, $300 in fees originally allocated to pay ISA dues was cut.

However, Nowak said the senate was "not prepared" to cut the request to cover the ISA travel expense for two reasons.

"First, the senate has not definitely made up its mind whether or not to discontinue sending people to ISA," even though representatives would no longer be full, voting members.

Secondly, $700 had already been cut from last year's budget as a general reduction because, Nowak said, he believes former Financial Vice President Todd Daniels allotted too much money for travel.

The AB also reduced the Art Board's original budget request from $6,500 to $5,200, which was an increase of $725 from last year. Cuts were made in the areas of workshops and conferences, print and advertising.

Final approval of these budgets will occur in April when all budgets have been presented.

Gerald Sullivan, Theater Department chairman, presented a budget of $20,412 to cover production expenses for five shows.

Although deliberations for Players are not scheduled until April, Sullivan requested that cuts be made in areas other than student payroll.

"I ask that you cut elsewhere because this (payroll) is what makes production tick," he said.

Amended report gives CAA seminar-approval power

by Mary Holland

The Council on Academic Affairs Thursday amended a subcommittee report on senior seminars to require that the CAA have final approval of proposed seminars and an advisory role in naming the seminar coordinator.

Students who will graduate under the 1981-82 Eastern catalog are required to enroll in a senior seminar.

At an earlier CAA meeting, some members had expressed opposition to a provision in the report which would require the seminar proposals to be approved by an advisory committee instead of the CAA.

The CAA amended the report to require that the advisory committee send all seminar proposals to the CAA for final approval.

The other amendment requires that the vice president for academic affairs approve the seminar's coordinator in consultation with the CAA.

After the meeting, CAA Chairperson Sharon Bartling said Steven Whitley of the English department has been tentatively placed in charge of the seminars, although it has not officially been announced by Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives.

CAA member Don Rogers, who voted against approving the report, expressed concern that Whitley would be given duties other than administering the seminars.

"I'm concerned that this will be a half-time administrative post, and Steve will spend his time doing a magnitude of other things. I hope he spends most of his time administrating this program, and not being a 'go-for' for other people," Rogers said.

In other action, the CAA approved nominations for members on the new honors council. The council will be responsible for overseeing the honors program scheduled to go into effect next fall.

Members of the honors council include David Buchanan of the chemistry department, Douglass Dibianco of the music department, Lorraine Flower of the physical education department, Patricia McAlister of the home economics Department, Bruce Guernsey of the English department, Bertrand Holley of the managing and marketing department, and Eastern student Mitchell Cripe.

Uphold liquor ordinance strictly

Charleston Mayor Bob Hickman has made the right decision in announcing stricter enforcement of the drinking age in the city's bars.

However, the bars should be continually monitored carefully by police to see that no one under 18 is being admitted, and no one under 21 is being served liquor.

Hickman's decision to have bar owners card and stamp patrons will help alleviate a problem brought to light by concerned parents in Charleston, that being high school age students being admitted to the bars.

The citizen group that brought that problem to the city council's attention charged that once high school students were in the bars, many were served liquor.

Hickman's decision also will allow Eastern students to continue frequenting the bars, as the city's ordinance permits 18, 19 and 20-year-olds to enter the bars.

Because this is a fair decision for everyone involved, bar owners should take care to see that the ordinance is strictly enforced.

Bar owners should maintain a consistent carding policy, checking drivers licenses every night of the week, and stamping the hand of those patrons who are of legal drinking age.

Bartenders should check for one of these hand stamps before serving a customer liquor.

City police should continue their spot checks of all the bars. Their appearance in the bars is a reminder that the ordinance is being enforced.

And Mayor Hickman should stand firm to his decision to prosecute all those involved in the sale of any liquor to underaged persons.

Hickman said he will temporarily close bars for violating either the state drinking age or the city ordinance. This also is a fair decision.

So often in the past, city officials have said the city ordinance is too difficult to enforce. Now is the chance to prove that the ordinance is an enforceable one.

Your Turn

Stop tasteless quips

Editor:

In fear that I might be the final Reagan supporter at Eastern, I have chosen to speak out.

To all the students that have complained within my earshot about the student loan cuts, I'd like to ask where they read that it's the federal government's duty to give prospective college students cheap loans? Haven't these panzies ever pulled their own loads?

And to ABC and the editor of the Des Moines, Iowa newspaper, kiss my "I love Ronnie" bumper sticker, their half-hour appearance on Nightline to discuss apparent presidential speech errors was a low slap at the most important man on earth. Where the hell is Des Moines, anyway?

Finally, to several of my professors here, I do not appreciate you using my class time to express your personal democratic viewpoints and to make tasteless quips against our president, Ronald Reagan.

As Emerson said in self-reliance, "to be great is to misunderstood."

Surprised by praise

Editor:

Please forgive me for being so late in this reply, but I want to thank the fans, on behalf of the 1981 Division II second place baseball team, for the tremendous applause they gave us at half-time during the Jan. 30 basketball game.

The response to the extent which we received was totally unexpected. Again, our thanks.

Teaching values threatens minorities

The right of minorities to hold their own views, even in the face of hostility from the majority, is a cornerstone of American democracy. Our country has been built on majority rule, coupled with respect for the rights of minorities.

The plan to teach morals and values in Illinois public schools, advanced by Illinois Superintendent of Public Schools Donald Gill, is a direct threat to this vital American tradition. It is an invitation to domination, even tyranny, by majorities, allowing them to force their beliefs on the children of those who may not share their opinions.

As critics of the plan have pointed out, it will be nearly impossible to reach a consensus on what morals and values to teach. In a pluralistic society, in which nearly every school district has diverse racial, ethnic and religious groups, there are bound to be wide differences of belief.

The six "fundamental moral assumptions" advanced by advocates of the plan are, undeniably, basic to American life and the mainstream cultural tradition. They are embodied in our most revered public documents, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the bill of Rights.

But it is unnecessary to set these moral assumptions apart in a separate course of study. They are already taught—or should be—in government, history and other courses. Children learn democratic values, by implication, in American history courses at all levels.

Asking local school districts to formulate their own packages of values creates the risk that whatever local

Crossviews:

The Daily Egyptian

groups happen to be powerful—the Moral Majority, the Roman Catholics or Southern Baptists—will stamp their religious and cultural values upon the school curriculum. They would need only assemble a majority of voters in their school district.

The expressed intention of Gill and other advocates of the plan to teach a so-called secular code of morals is unrealistic. Codes of values, by their nature, include religious values. It is naive to suppose that such codes could be cleansed of all religious content.

The contention that schools must teach values because families don't do it may be unfounded. Whether the family's ability to teach morals is gone is subject to debate. Regardless of that, it is not the place of public schools to set out on a specific plan to teach specific values, with the objective that all who are thus taught will accept and believe in those values forever more. That should be left to church Sunday schools.

We are a diverse peoples and beliefs. Any attempt to make one set of beliefs the official doctrine would be a harmful, backward step.

Possible fee for late bills

by Gene O'Shea

A proposed change in water bill late fees may mean Charleston residents would pay late fees for any unpaid water/sewer bills.

Under the current system, a resident is not charged a late payment fee if he has paid his water/sewer bills on time for the previous six months.

The proposed change would do away with this present policy and, if a payment is late, the resident will be charged a late payment fee, regardless of his past record.

The change was proposed by the city's accounting office because "the new computer won't allow us to program the credit" from the previous six months, Accounts and Finance Commissioner Clancy Pfeiffer said.

Olga Durham, public health and safety commissioner, said the new policy was formulated to apply to residents who usually do not make payments on time.

"Most of the people who are late are frequently late; some are habitually late," Durham said. "We cannot give water away for nothing."

Public Property Commissioner John Beusch said late fees, in most cases, are assessed by a resident's monthly average use of water. For example, if a customer uses a lot of water one month, the amount will be averaged into his bill the following month, unless his meter is read.

"This would be unfair to people especially when we are assessing late fees on an average use of water," Beusch said.

UB appoints three coordinators

Three Eastern students have been chosen to fill coordinator vacancies on the University Board.

The coordinators were appointed and approved at the Feb. 9 UB meeting.

Students chosen to fill the positions are: sophomore John Brom, movies coordinator; junior Eric Duchinsky, productions coordinator; and junior Helen O'Keefe, Homecoming-Crazy

Brom and O'Keefe will assume their positions in March, UB Chairman-elect Steven E. Jones said.

Duchinsky will take office Monday, Jones said.

The names of the three new coordinators will be presented to the Legislative Leadership Committee for approval Tuesday and to the Student Senate Wednesday.

Computer Services given more space for student use

by Elise Dinquel

Additional space acquired recently by Computer Services in the basement of the Student Services Building will be adapted for student use, a Computer Services official said Monday.

David Henard, director of Computer Services, said three large rooms on the north side of the building and two smaller rooms on the south side that were formerly used by financial aids were given to Computer Services.

Financial aid offices recently consolidated in the east end of the building in facilities formerly occupied by the journalism department and student publications.

Henard said three major areas are being planned from the space acquired, including a student study area, an open micro-computer lab, and an input/output bin area.

"We're planning to make a student study area with tables and chairs available so students can check their output there without having to go back to their (homes) or doing it in the hall," Henard said.

He added the study area will be ready for student use following the arrival of chairs which were ordered last semester.

Henard said the open micro-computer lab would probably not be ready for use until next fall or spring, depending on when Computer Services receives additional micro-computers.

"We have a few (micro-computers) for instructional purposes now, and others have been figured into our budget request for next year," Henard said.

Henard also said the last area, which is the most westerly of the rooms acquired on the north side of the building, will be made into an input/output bin area, although that area will not be used until this summer.

"Input/output bin areas are racks of pigeon-hole bins where the students' output will be placed," he explained.

Henard said the department has no reason to believe it will be given additional space in the future.

"We're just very happy to get what we have coming," he said.

CUPB to review NEIPR requests

In its first meeting of the semester, the Council on University Planning and Budgeting Monday will review non-instructional New and Expanded/Improved Program Requests (NEIPRs) for fiscal year 1984.

NEIPRs are those funds requested for development of an already existing or preconceived program. The non-instructional NEIPRs would include requests for repair and maintenance of buildings on campus.

The council will be reviewing these non-instructional requests for the first time. Last December, the council had reviewed three academic FY84 NEIPRs.

After the CUPB has reviewed these requests, they will be sent to the Board of Governors and the Illinois Board of Higher Education for final approval.

The CUPB will meet at 2 p.m. Monday in the University Addition Casey Room.

Hole new business

Store offers fresh donuts around-the-clock

by Karen Sisulak

How do doughnuts get holes in their middles? The Donut House knows.

The Donut House on Lincoln Avenue next to Caesar's Pizza, is open for business and is anxiously awaiting student patrons, cashier Faith Voltunor said.

Jim Niemer, manager of the store, said the Donut House is open 24 hours daily and holidays.

Niemer noted that the doughnuts are brought in daily from Effingham where the original Donut House is located. Niemer said there are 52 varieties of doughnuts.

Niemer said the Donut House also offers tea, soft drinks, four kinds of fruit juice and refillable cups of coffee.

The Donut House is co-owned by Bob Niemer and Greg Roepke of Effingham, who said they realize the establishment's building has housed several other businesses, but express great confidence in student business.

Auditions scheduled for two one-act plays

Auditions for two original one-act plays will be held Monday and Tuesday.

E.G. Gabbard of the theatre arts department said auditions are scheduled from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. both days in the Fine Arts Building Green Room.

"For Better, For Worse" deals with the fears of a new bride, Gabbard said.

The other play, "Just Friends," deals with the lives of two friends working in a cafeteria, he said.

The two comedies require parts for three men and three women, Gabbard said.

Auditions are open to any Eastern student, including non-theatre majors, he added. Rehearsals are scheduled to take "an hour or two each day."

The plays are written by senior Teresa Meves, who will also be directing the plays, Gabbard said.

The plays will be performed March 9, he said.

type" of half in which "neither team had the momentum."

Eastern led by as many as eight points in the second stanza, but the Saints fought back to tie 60-60 with 6:58 left.

Hilke credited Kassebaum and Kathy Lanter with intelligent play and controlling the pace of the game as Eastern broke the tie to build a 70-61 lead with 3:20 remaining.

The Saints could not mount a final charge as the Panthers controlled the flow and tallied four of six crucial free throws leading to the 78-71 final score.

Carol Brinkman led St. Francis with 19 points followed by her sister Kim with 17. Priebay and Sue Niewinski added 12 each.

Collins snared 19 boards with her 26 points and Dede Edwards grabbed 11 misses and dropped in six field goals for Eastern. Kassebaum scored 19 points with 10 assists while Lanter tallied 15 and dished out 9 scoring passes.

Junior guard Kassebaum's 500th assist came at 5:41 of the second half. She now tops the Eastern career assist chart, having already broken the previous mark held by Sandy Thorpe.

Kassebaum aggravated an ankle injury in pre-game warmups Saturday and did not play. Hilke said the injury was not serious and Kassebaum could have played if it had been necessary.

Her services were not required as Beth Sass and Jodi Corson handled the starting guard responsibilities and the Panthers jumped out to a 8-0 lead against St. Francis.

Eastern maintained a seven- to nine-point margin and led 34-25 at halftime. The lead ballooned to as many as 16 in the second half, but numerous mistakes prevented the Panthers from increasing the margin.

The sloppy Panthers committed 21 turnovers and 24 fouls, but the stone-cold Golden Eagle shooters could not convert as St. Francis hit only 35 percent from the field.

Collins' 17 points led the Panthers for the eleventh time this season. Sass played a solid game in her second starting role of the year, snaring a game-high 12 boards and tallying 8 points.

Grapplers keep rolling on, whip Ball State

by Steve Binder

Eastern's wrestling squad won its third straight meet Thursday by dominating eight of 10 matches over Ball State 36-6 at Lantz Gym.

The victory was the Panthers' fifth of six contests this season, as an elated head coach Ron Clinton said, "We just completely dominated the meet. Ball State really was never into it today. We're finally beginning to roll."

Wrestling for an injured Randy Blackman at 118, Tom Vickers got the Panthers off to a strong start by decisioning the Cardinals' Jay Geregenheimer 10-4.

Derek Porter continued Eastern's domination at 126 by dumping Ron Meady 19-10.

Then Panther Bernie Ruettiger downed Ball State's Scott Leasure 12-9.

"Bernie wrestled one of his best matches this year because the kid he beat was one of Ball State's best wrestlers," Clinton explained.

At 142, Panther Rich Brown shut out Jeff Sanchez 9-0 while Eastern's Les Robinson and Cardinal Ron Baker grappled to a 5-5 tie.

Eastern's Mark Gronowski registered the only pin of the meet, nailing John Blanc at the 4:12 mark.

But in the most impressive match, Eastern's Dennis McCormick destroyed Dave White 30-5. McCormick, who is still recovering from neck spasms, totaled numerous three-point near falls in the lopsided victory.

"Dennis was very impressive considering he is just coming off an injury. He wrestled very well," Clinton said.

Outstanding All-American Geno Savegnago handed Craig Newburg a 12-3 loss while heavyweight Rich Magsamen recorded the lone Panther defeat. Greg Foliano decisioned Magsamen 19-8.

The Panthers will face two top-ranked teams Thursday night as they play SIU-Carbondale at 4 p.m. and Illinois in an 8 p.m. contest.

Men cagers split games; face East Carolina...

Eastern forward Kevin Jones drives past Nigel Lloyd for two of his 10 points during the Panthers' thrilling 83-77 victory Thursday night at Lantz Gym. The Panthers boosted their record to 10-11 after the win, but dropped a 68-60 overtime decision to Baptist College Saturday in Charleston S.C. (News photo by Sam Paisley)

by Steve Binder

Despite playing solid basketball, Eastern's cagers failed to progress toward its goal of reaching a .500 record as the Panthers dumped U.S. International 83-77 Thursday at Lantz Gym and dropped a 68-60 overtime decision to Baptist College Saturday in Charleston, S.C.

The Panthers went into the International contest carrying a 9-11 record and a three-game winning streak, but Eastern fell to 10-12 after the disappointing Baptist loss.

To attain their .500-record goal, the Panthers must win four of its last five ballgames. Their challenge begins Monday with a 6:30 p.m. clash against a tough East Carolina unit in Greenville, N.C.

Although the Pirates possess a 9-11 record, East Carolina has a difficult schedule in playing teams like Southern and Howard University. In an early-season matchup, the Pirates manhandled Western Illinois 85-69 in Greenville. Eastern lost to Western 65-53 Jan. 23 in Macomb.

The Pirates also sport a tall 6-9, 6-7, 6-7 front line which could cause Eastern havoc, but in Saturday's contest against Baptist, the Panthers limited 6-foot-8 center Tom TenBroeck to just two points.

Saturday both teams learned the importance of converting free throws at crucial times. Eastern, trailing throughout the second half, scored 13 of its 19 points with 10:00 remaining from the charity stripe to erase a 44-37 deficit.

With 49 seconds left, Panther guard Tim Dykstra was at the line with a one-and-one and the score tied at 56, but his first attempt went off the rim.

As Baptist worked for the last shot, Buccaneer guard Rich Richardson was fouled by Vincent Smelter with three seconds left. But Richardson also missed his one-and-one opportunity to win the game and the contest went into overtime.

The Buccaneers, seeking to avenge a heartbreaking defeat to Campbell College Wednesday night, managed to convert just 4 of 11 free throws in the first two periods.

But Baptist redeemed itself by hitting 10 of 11 charity tosses in the overtime stanza to secure the victory.

After a slow-tempoed first half with the score tied at 29 for the intermission, the Buccaneers began to speed up the pace with immediate success.

Six-foot-seven senior forward Eddie Talley scored eight of his 15 points during a six-minute stretch to lead Baptist to a 43-37 lead with 12:52 left when Eastern head coach Rick Samuels called time out.

The Panthers regrouped and led by All-American

Ricky Robinson's eight-point streak of his own, Eastern managed to tie the score at 50 with 4:30 remaining when Baptist head coach Phil Carter called time out.

Robinson tallied four free throws as Woods countered with two 15-footers to round out the scoring before the overtime period.

The Panthers struck first blood as Dykstra converted a layup for a 58-56 lead, but as he was fouled by Smelter, Talley swished a seven-footer and converted the free throw to give the Buccaneers a 59-58 lead they never lost. As Baptist held the ball, the Panthers constantly fouled and the Buccaneers converted nine free throws to seal the win.

In Thursday's thrilling victory over U.S. International, the Panthers shot an incredible 81 percent from the field in the second half to overcome an unorganized, trio-talented Gull unit.

International's awkward passes and style of play caused Samuels to state, "I'm glad the game is over. That team really scared me because they have so much individual talent but are so unorganized, we didn't know what to do sometimes."

Gull center Don Robinson and guards Nigel Lloyd and Charlie Smith combined to score 71 of their teams' 77 points.

Behind Smith and Lloyd's outside shooting, the Gulls led throughout much of the first half until Kevin Jones' 12-foot baseline shot at the buzzer tied the score at 41.

Eastern then turned in an outstanding second-half shooting display and completely dominated the Gulls although the score remained close at 75-71 with 3:28 left.

...as women sweep through weekend

by Susan McCann

Behind a tough defense and controlled offense Friday and despite a sloppy performance Saturday, Eastern's women cagers recorded two weekend road victories.

The College of St. Francis fell to the Panthers 78-71 Friday as Toni Collins tied her personal season-high record of 26 points and Nancy Kassebaum notched her 500th career assist in Joliet.

Northeastern Illinois University failed to capitalize on a poor Panther showing as they missed 39 field-goal attempts and 11 charity tosses en route to a 60-50 loss Saturday in Chicago.

Panther head coach Bobbie Hilke said the variance in her squad's performance was because "we're playing just well enough to win."

Early in Saturday's contest the Saints' hot outside shooting forced the Panthers out of their box-and-one defense designed to stop the Saint's leading scorer—Chris Prieboy.

Although Prieboy was being contained, St. Francis' Brinkman sisters, Carol and Kim, were burning the nets from outside.

Hilke said she ordered a man-to-man defense and her team responded with "probably the best (man-to-man) we've played this season."

The Panthers led 38-35 after what Hilke termed "a basket-for-basket

(See WOMEN, page 15)

Weekend Scoreboard

Women nab four firsts

Eastern women's track team registered four first-places, including a new Armory record in the 440-yard relay at the Illinois Invitational Saturday in Champaign.

No team scores were recorded at the 15-team meet. See Tuesday's Daily Eastern News for complete coverage.
